WEEKLY MEETING AT AU

PLUMBING LEAK

DAVID (CENTER) WITH GW STUDENTS

Book

One With My Lord by Sam Allberry

Verse

The Lord will fight for you, and you have only to be silent. - Exodus 14:14

Prayer

- Mitchell (*name changed) openly claims Christ now!
- Pray for movement to open at Georgetown among faculty and/or undergrads
- Pray for an upcoming GW event. David will present on Christ & Culture, how students can faithfully represent Christ in surrounding culture; so needed in DC!
- Pray for our health and stability as a family. Pray also for Ashley's health and that of baby Coffey #3 who is due any day now!

DC FAST FACT

THERE'S NO J STREET AMONG DC'S LETTERED STREETS

THE ETERNAL ONE

"Did you hear? Mitchell* definitely became a Christian!" After every weekly meeting at AU we divide the room into discussion groups. David sensed a seeking mindset in his group—Mitchell among them. Following the discussion, Mitchell shared he felt warmly about Cru, liked Jesus, but was still looking for happiness. The Bible never made much sense, so he preferred to hear other people explain things. "Would you want to hear how I think you can know God personally?" David asked. They talked for over an hour.

They talked well after everyone left, and the university staff closed the room. David shared how our sin against an eternal God left us with an eternal debt. Only an eternal being could pay it. That's why it had to be Jesus. "Ooooooh! It all makes sense now," Mitchell blurted out! He took the Gospel booklet and said he would look over the prayer. Word spread a couple weeks later when one of the AU student leaders asked him point blank, and he openly claimed Christ. Praise God!

LABORING THROUGH TRIALS

In the midst of God moving on campus, the Coffey's have been facing spiritual warfare. In Jan a plumbing leak turned into a fountain flowing from our upstairs bathroom onto our kitchen. We needed temporary housing for 2 ½ weeks while the kitchen ceiling and upstairs bathroom were completely repaired and replumbed. At the same time, David came down with three back-to-back conditions (week long migraine, flu, and then pneumonia) which lasted nearly three weeks. It was only God's faithfulness and provision that sustained us. Pray this would only serve to increase our hope in His provision for us (2 Cor 12:9-10). Pray also that He would keep us from the evil one (2 Thes 3:3).
